

Jernbane-direktoratet

Knut Sletta

Director General, The Norwegian Railway Directorate

A large sector, reliant on each other for success

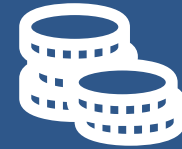

The Norwegian population is expected to increase by 675.921 people by 2060.

Norway must be carbon neutral by 2050.

The transport sector is responsible for 1/3 of national emissions.

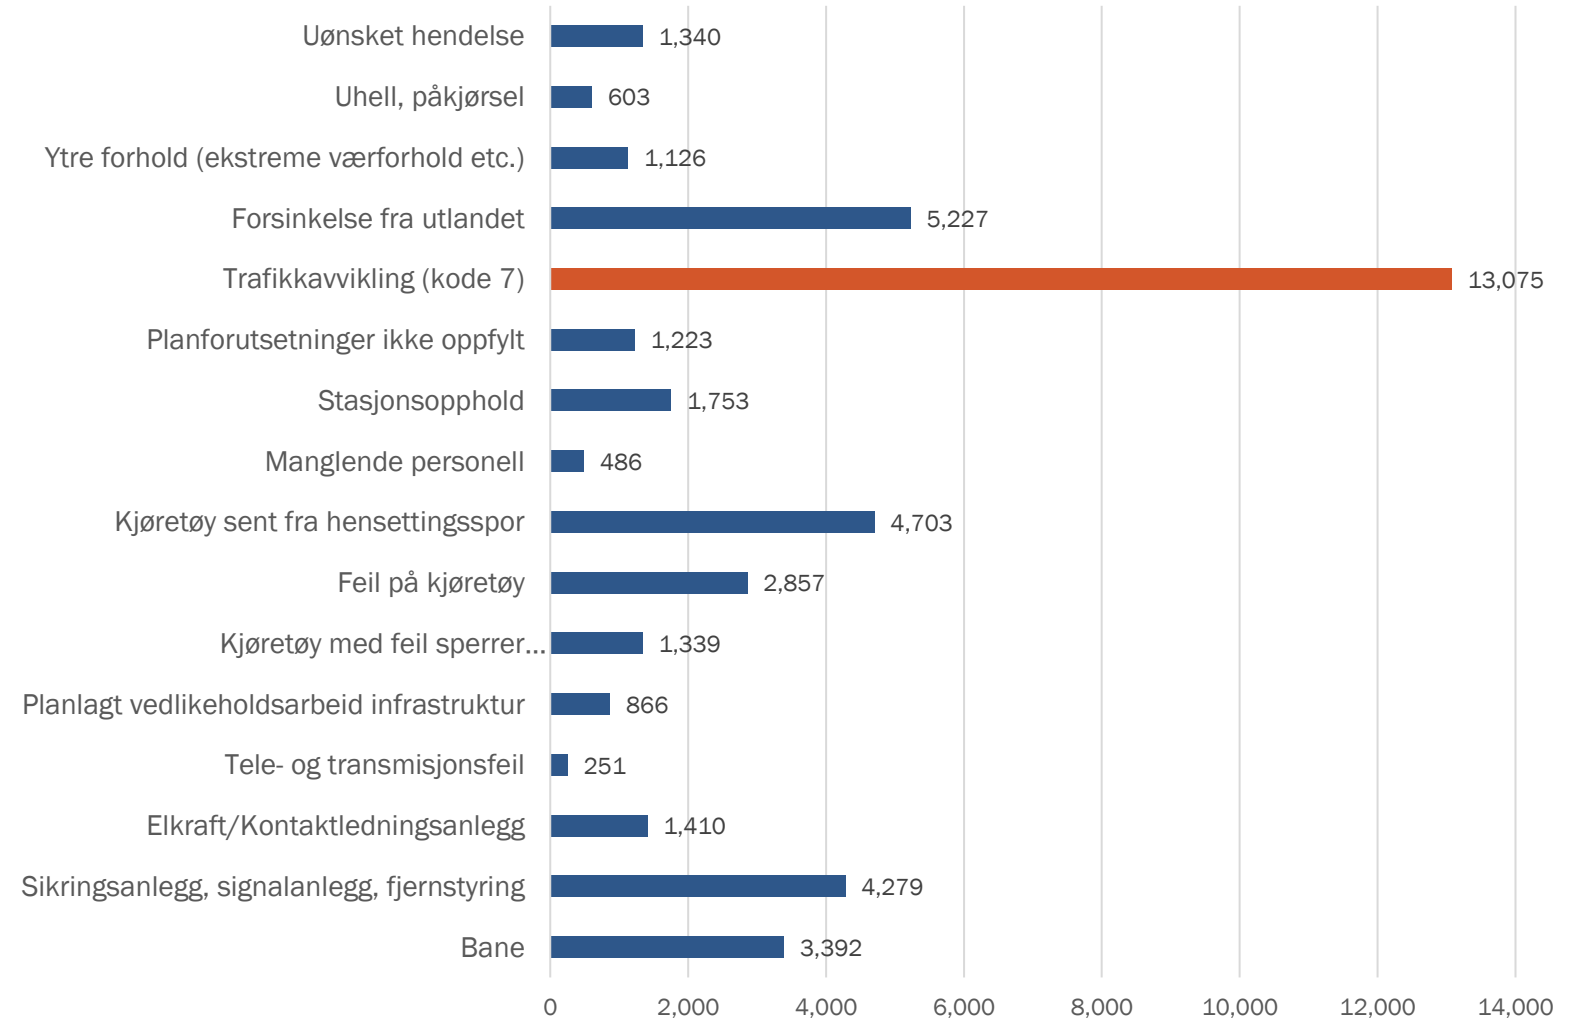

High interest rates and conflict lead to less financial room for large investments.

A busy train platform with people walking and a train on the left. A large white number '43933' is overlaid on the image. The background shows a modern train station with overhead power lines and a digital display board showing the number '2' and the text 'Mass'.

43933

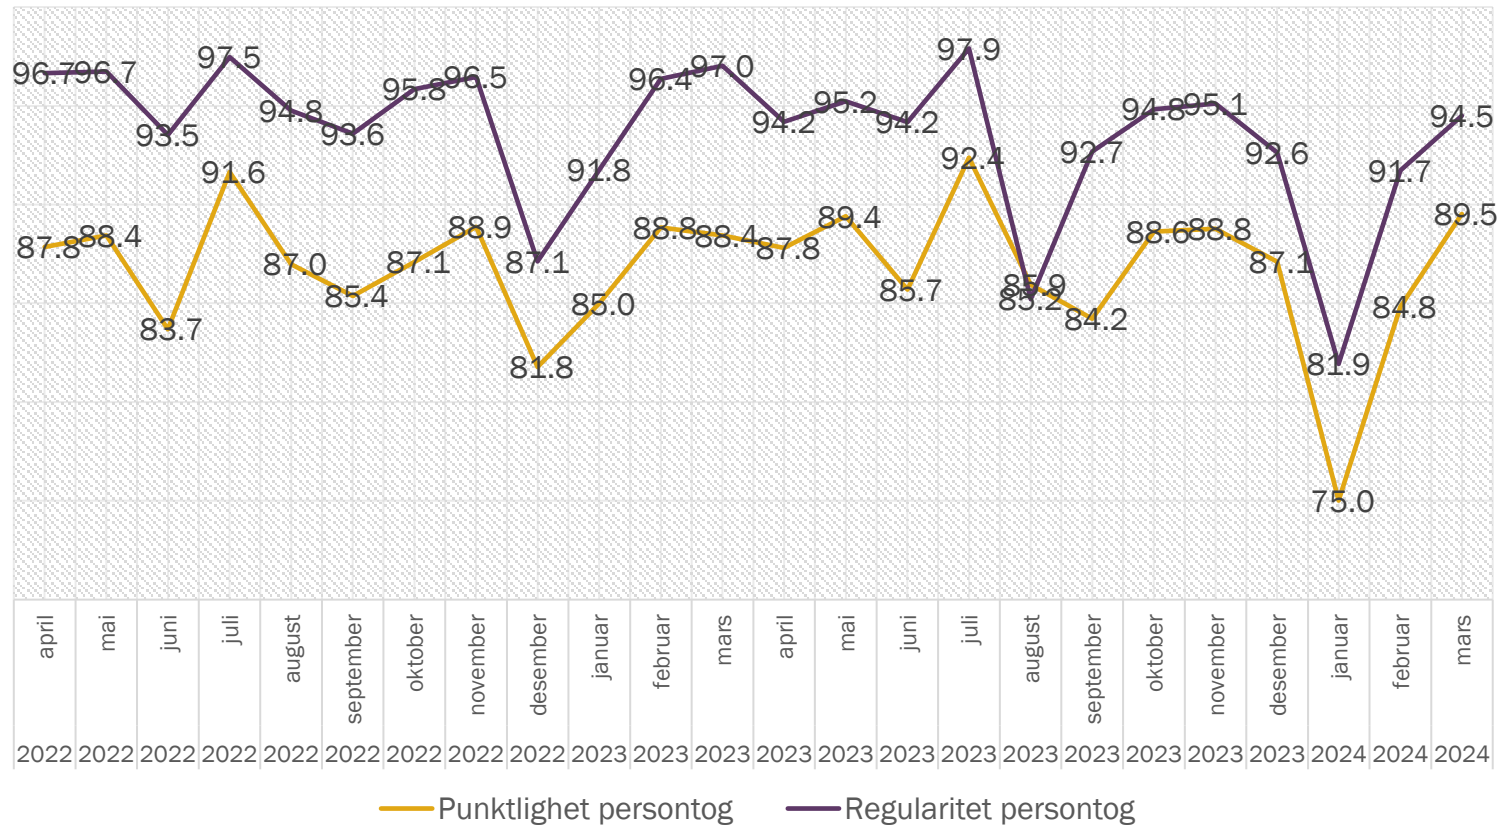

Cause of delay (2023)

Operational stability and «blackout days»

Punctuality and regularity (passenger traffic per month).

Meld. St. 14

(2023–2024)

Melding til Stortinget

Nasjonal transportplan 2025–2036

The new national transport plan (NTP)

A shift towards maintenance and renewal of the existing infrastructure

Gradual replacement of the rolling stock

Finishing existing projects and building new projects that increase capacity where its needed

Better cooperation in the sector around operational stability and passenger satisfaction

